About EduExcellence Educational Society

EduExcellence was started by a group of IITians in December 2008, with a desire to contribute to the field of education by introducing a new culture of constant learning. Today we have access to education practices being followed on various continents and have touched the lives of more than 1500 school principals and hundreds of teachers.

EduExcellence evaluates the best of the practices from all over the world, studies their scope of implementation in Indian scenarios and helps in executing them by bringing the right kind of expertise. Our board comprises of Professors from IITs and IIMs, who play a pivotal role in our quality assurance.

About Aspire Trust UK

The Aspire Trust is an Arts Education international business specialising in educational research, learning, Continuing Professional Development (CPD) and event management. We work across all educational phases from Early Years to Higher Education, and all art forms including music, dance, drama, fine arts and film across the UK. We also have active partnerships with artists, teachers and organizations from across the world.

The Trust was shortlisted in 2009 for a Liverpool Daily Post / Liverpool John Moores University Knowledge Business of the Year Award. It has organized several international conferences in recent years with partners such as National Museums Liverpool; Liverpool Hope University, Chaturanga Dance Company; and FACT (Foundation for Art and Creative Technology) Liverpool.

ALL OUR FUTURES - 2

Developing Schools in Turbulent Times

Monday 13 June - Saturday 18 June, 2011

University of Hull, Yorkshire, United Kingdom

Premise

The nature of secondary education is rapidly changing across the world. New curricula and new approaches to teaching and learning; the changing social conditions which children and young people are growing up within; the technical and environmental challenges we all face, all produce extraordinary pressures on the values, purposes and role of secondary education. This is as true for schools in urbanized inner cities as it for those in wealthy neighborhoods or those in remote, rural communities.

Introduction

All Our Futures - 2 is the second conference for Principals and Head Teachers of secondary schools around the globe. AOF -1 examined the difficult national climates and pressures on secondary education and identified the ways in which secondary schools have identified local solutions to those pressures.

This conference aims to put forward the international pedagogy and education practices being applied at various levels in school. The aim of All Our Futures - 2 is to provide hands on experience of international education practices to delegates and to facilitate the exchange process between schools of different countries participating in the conference.

Content of the Conference:

- a. The Role of Head Teacher: New Approaches to School Leadership
- b. The Role of the School Manager: New Administrative Systems and Processes
- c. The Role of the Teacher: New Approaches to Curricula, Pedagogy and Assessment

Some of the Educationalists involved in AOF- 2:

Dr. Nick Owen: Director of the Aspire Trust

Don Williamson: School Workforce Advisor for the Wirral LEA. Responsible for reform, modernization and development of the whole school workforce

Steven Peach: Head Teacher, Oldershaw School, Wallasey

Prof. Mike Bottery: University of Hull

Prof. Derek Colquhoun: University of Hull

Dr. Trevor Male: University of Hull

Dr. Ioanna Palaologou: University of Hull

Meena Ward: Her Majesty's Inspector, OFSTED

Learning Points:

Interaction with internationally acclaimed speakers

First hand experience of the international education system and direct links with schools and pupils – which would last a life time. With emphasis on how they have developed the solutions to the problems faced and how those could be implemented in the local context.

A Day in the Life of Local Schools

Delegates were taken to their host schools, where they met teachers and pupils, observed classes and discussed the observations made during the school visits planned for future faculty/student exchanges.

Local schools visited last year

1. Oldershaw Business and Enterprise College, Wallasey
2. Wade Deacon High School, Widnes
3. Mount Primary School, Wallasey
4. Rainhill Arts and Media College, St Helens
5. Bleak Hill Primary School, St Helens

Cultural Get Togethers With Conducive Educational Ambience

Conference at prestigious University of Hull, Hull Campus

- Conference reception event on Day 1, with leading educationalists
- A special event organized by local artists, teachers and pupils on day 5
- One day reserved for visit to London at delegates' request

Charms of Conferencing in Yorkshire

This conference experience will be second to none. We have a rich tradition and heritage. Yorkshire is renowned for its friendliness, cosmopolitan nature and diverse cultural experiences.

University of Hull

University of Hull has campuses in Hull and Scarborough.

The City of Hull is situated in East Yorkshire, on the northern shore of the Humber Estuary. Scarborough is a North Yorkshire seaside town, 40 miles further up the North Sea coast.

Hull and Scarborough enjoy good road and rail links to the rest of the country. Hull is 200 miles from London and Edinburgh, 100 miles from Manchester and an hour's drive from Leeds and York. Scarborough is an hour's drive from York.

Hull is also connected by air and sea to Europe. Humberside International Airport is only 30 minutes' drive from Hull, and P&O Ferries offer daily overnight services to Rotterdam and Zeebrugge from Hull's port.
